NORTHERN STATES OF MEXICO EXCITED

Are Said to be Ready to Take up Arms to Avenge Madero's Murder.

NO OPEN REVOLT YET.

Precautions Taken Against Any Demonstration Hostile to Huerta as a Result of the Tragedy.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 24.—Reports from the northern states of Mexico indicate a generally intense excitement over the killing of Madero and Suare but fail to show any onep demonstrations against President Huerta and his iron handed regime. That the effect of the shooting is unfavorable to the Huerta government appears certain.

The Madero supporters throughout northern Mexico, where his strength of following was greatest, are ready to take up arms to avenge his death, but the government officials and federal troops have shown no sign of revolt.

From Sonora came the unofficial report that the state congress was to convene today to determine whether the state should be declared in open rebelling against the Huerta government. Gov. Maytorena telegraphed from Hermosilla, the State capital, to all prefects throughout the state to take prompt measure to suppress any demonstrations against Huerta as a result of the tragedy.

The northern rebels who have been in arms against Madero ever since he took office appeared today to be pleased with the news from Mexico City. Manuel L. LeJuan, the chief rebel agent here, expressed the concensus of opinion among his adherents in typical Spanish fashion.

"It is for the good of the country," he said with a shrug."It is similar to the killing of Maxmillian, the French Emperor. It is deplorable but necessary. The effect on Washington in view of the Taft note does not interest us. Madero could not have been exiled as he might have started another revolution. We must have peace now.'

The killing of former President Madero and former Vice-President Suare was the result of a plot, according to friends of Madero here, who claim to have information that Madero's death was decided upon the day he was made president.

Maderistas on the border were bitter against Huerta for deserting Madero during the Mexico City battle. when they said he was pretending to be winning the battle. They are very bitter now over what they call "the deliberate killing" of the former president. Maderistas say no attempt was made to rescue Madero and Saurez from their guards in Mexico City but that the guards killed them and also killed two innocent bystanders, claiming that they were part of the mob which had tried to rescue the fallen rulers.

More than 300 Yaquis are under arms in the State of Sonora and have offered their services to Governor Maytorena to be part of an army which he is raising.

FOUR HURT BY FALLING SCAFFOLD.

Workmen Hurled From Second-Story Window to Pavement Below.

Suffolk, Va., Feb. 24.—The scaffold on which they were working giving way, four men, C. B. Metcalf, Peter Tebo, Edward Mitchell, and Arthur Brown, were hurled to the pavement, two stories below, Saturday morning on Washington square in Suffolk, the first two suffering serious and perhaps fatal injuries. Mitchell and Brown escaped with bruises and sprained limbs.

Just as the men were raising a heavy window frame, the scaffold gave way, a pedestrian underneath barely escaping being crushed.

Solicitations are being sent out by the Relief Hook and Ladder Company to members of the community to support the proposition for erection of a new truck house.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Marion Cantrl, a 17-year-old negro boy, under arrest on a charge of assault and battery upon a white man early yesterday was taken from officers near Manning,S. C., by a mob of masked men and shot to death. Cantrl had been commited to jail by a magistrate in Paxville, S. C., and was being brought to Mannig for incarceration. About a dozen men, the identity of none whom is known,were in the party which overpowered the constable and his deputies and lynched the prisoner. An investigation has been instituted.

England has been greatly troubled since it was officially established some time ago that a Zeppelin airship had actually flown over Sheerness during the night. To add to the perplexity and wonderment over the nocturnal visits, the news last night that another mysterious airship was seen at Shelby, in Yorkshire, was reconnoitering for nearly an hour in the neighborhood. The airship showed port and starboard light and flashed her searchlight over the countryside. Many people distinctly heard the whirr of the propellers. The last visitation assumes a special gravity in vie wof the aerial navigation act which was recently rushed through Parliament. This gives authorities of any community the power to shoot at any aircraft that fails to give a satisfactory explanation of her movements.

Investigations of the secret police of Belgium, have revealed preparations to turn the forthcoming general strike into a revolutionary movement. It has been learned that thousonds Browning automatic pistols have been purchased by workmen in the mining districts, and that others have secreted large quantities of dynamite. Messages between labor leaders have been intercepted which show that a gneral uprising is being planned. The government has begun the movement of troops into the mining districts, and the utmost severity will be used.

More than a million dollars was the price paid by Chicago for one sleet, rain and snowstorm. Nearby towns paid a similar tribute to the elements. Telephone, telegraph and transportation companies were the greatest losers. Many persons received injuries due to falls on icy pavements. In Elgin street cars were at a standstill, electric lights useless and the newspapers unable to publish because their power was shut off.

Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed the plans of the Atlantic Compress Company, containing 11,000 bales of cotton, and the Columbus barrel factory, resulting in damages estimated early yesbarday at $1,500,000 at Columbus, Georgia.

Willis Webb, negro, was lynched yesterday by members of his own race on a plantation in a remote section of Sunflower county, Miss., after he had shot and killed two negro women and two negro men. Webb, charged with the murder of a member of his race two years ago, fled to Arkansas. He returned Friday, and failing to induce Clara Love, a negress, and her mother, to go back with him, shot them to death. When the elder Love and his son appeared, Webb opened fire with a pistol and killed both.Yesterday a large number of negroes caught him, and with little ceremony, hanged him to a tree.

Because he did not want to chop wood, Milton B. Bancroft, 13 years old, shot himself Saturday, death resulting today at the Marlborough, Mass., hospital. The boy was the son of William Bancroft, of Hudson. After his father had asked him to chop some wood he disappeared leaving a note saying that he was going to kill himself. A few hours later he was found in the woods nearby suffering from a bullet wound.

DYNAMITE WRECKS COMPANY'S HOUSE

Windows of Other Structures are Shattered by Explosion.

LABORER SUSPECTED.

Police Are Confident That Explosive Was Placed in the Building With Criminal Intent.

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 24.—An explosion of dynamite early today partially destroyed the building of the Scranton Tobacco Company, in course of construction at Sprido and Franklin Avenue and shattered windows in a number of dwellings and business houses in the immediate vicinity.

The police are positive, they say, that dynamite was exploded under the building with criminal intent, and are today searching for a discharged laborer who last week assaulted Contractor M. J. Ruddy, n charge of construction, and threatened to blow up the building.

For three months there has been a strike of the hod carriers and building laborers union against Ruddy. The total damage will not exceed $1,500.

COLUMBIA'S BANQUET.

An Exening's Enjoyment—Music and Speeches.

With the meeting rooms of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company decorated with palms and flowers and tables set to seat half a hundred guests, the officers and members of the company held their annual banquet Saturday night. With the officers and members there were 55 present. John Leadbeater acted as toast master during the evening.

An interesting programme of entertainment was arranged, headed by the famous quartet composed of E. G. Rogers, W. H. Wood, jr., H. C. Phillips, jr., and M. J. Haynes, who rendered vocal music in a most excellent manner, and were loudly encored. Mr. Rogers and Mr. Haynes sang several solos, as did Andrew Drew.

Recitations were rendered by several of the members and short talks were made by others.

J. L. Duffey, the scenic artist, did some remarkably quick work Saturday in painting the two water color scenes used in the decorations of the banquet room. In one hour and ten minutes Mr. Duffey finished the two paintings, each being 6-feet square, one of Mt. Vernon and the other being a good likeness of the portrait of George Washington.

In Saturday's issue of the Gazette it was erronously stated that there would be an oyster roast at the Columbia Fire Engine house. This was a mistake. It should have read, "A Banquet."

Divorce Declared Valid.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 24.—The validity of the divorce decree granted William Guggenheim, one of the smelter millionaires, from his former wife, now Mrs. Grace B. Herbert-Guggenheim-Wahl, was today reaffirmed by Judge O. E. Heard. He ruled that the divorce must stand, notwithstanding the allegations and admissions of fraud in its procurement two years ago.

SUICIDE OF A CONDUCTOR.

Despondent Over Prospective Sale of His Home.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 24.—Despondent because his home had been advertised for sale under a deed of trust, J. F. Myers, a well-known conductor of the Norfolk and Western, Saturday morning went to his room at his home in that city, and placing a revolver to his temple, sent a ball crashing through his brain. Death was instantaneous.

When Mrs. Myers and a servant, who heard the shot, rushed upstairs and into the room, they found Myers already dead. Myers' railway run was between Roanoke and Hagerstown, Md.

ANOTHER TOUCH OF WINTER.

High Northwest Wind Last Night And Snow at Early Hour This Morning.

The spring-like conditions of last Saturday were followed during the night by clearing weather and yesterday morning the heavens were unflecked by clouds. The wind had changed to the northwest and the temperature had fallen considerably. The wind gathered force last night, and roared dismally, and later the heavens became overcast. About 5:30 this morning the wind had veered to the northeast and snow was falling.

The weather prophet is still unable to tell what kind of weather this vicinity is going to have on March 4. According to the Weather Bureau bulletin issued for the coming week. Rain, hail, or snow is stated for the latter part of the week, commencing Thursday, and lasting until Saturday or Sunday. We are not assured in any way about inauguration day.

There is a disturbance brewing now off the Pacific coast, which, moving inland, will cross the Rocky Mountains and arrive in this section about Thursday. Another disturbance is expected to appear in the far West about Friday and prevail over the Middle West at the close of the week. Whether this storm will make its way toward this vicinity is hard to tell.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

Large And Enthusiastic Meeting in Christ Church Parish Hall Yesterday Afternoon.

At the annual meeting of the Sunday School Workers Association, held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the Parish Hall of Christ Church, the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: James R. Mansfield, president; J. Frank Myers, vice president; John W. Herndon, secretary and treasurer. Superintendents of the five departments will be named later by the executive committee.

The departments are elementary, secondary, adult, home and teacher training.

Plans were discussed for a "get together meeting" which will be held some time during the latter part of next month in the First Baptist Church when the representatives of all of the Sunday schools in the city will be invited to be present. A number of prominent Sunday school workers will also be requested to be present and make addresses at this meeting. A date for the meeting will be determined upon later.

Committees on music, press, programme and reception and entertainment are to be appointed.

The meeting yesterday was well attended and the association was greatly encouraged in the work. The object of the members is to make the next meeting one of the largest of persons engaged in Sunday school work ever held in Alexandria.

Wants Federal Protection.

John Armstrong Chaloner, of "Who's Looney Now?" fame, and who may not venture north of the Mason and Dixon line because he has been adjudged of unsound mind by the courts of New York state, has made application to President Taft for Federal protection across the Potomac, and is now anxiously awaiting the President's reply.

This information was received yesterday by the dramatic writer of the Herald,who undertook to see that an invitation extended Mr. Chaloner by Lina Cavalleri to hear her in concert in Washington this week should reach him the noted diva being unacquainted with the address of her one-time brother-in-law.

Upon reaching New York Cavalieri heard for the first time of the "Who's Looney Now?" message, and her interest and curiosity were so piqued that she wrote a letter to Mr. Chaloner.

Woman's Revenge.

London, Feb. 24.—Mrs. Mary Desmond, a poorly dressed woman, carrying a peaked faced baby boy in her arms, was fined $2.50 today in Bow Street court for smashing the glass panel in the door of the admiralty. The magistrate and all other spectators grasped when Mrs. Desmond indignantly denied that she was a suffragette.

"I am not a suffragette," she cried. "I do not want the ballot! I broke the glass as a protest against the transfer of the warship building from the Thames to the North. It threw my husband out of work and our children and many others are starving."

MORGAN IS SAID TO BE IMPROVING

Rome Specialis Arrives in Cairo to Attend American Financier.

MAKES EXAMINATION.

Physician, However, Made no Statement Concerning Morgan's Physical Condition.

Rome, Feb. 24.—J. P. Morgan's health is improving steadily, according to his granddaughter, Miss Hamilton, who today arrived from Cairo, Egypt, to stay with Rome relatives.

Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 24.—Dr. Bastianelli, the Rome specialist, has arrived in Cairo to attend J. P. Morgan. Today he made a tthorough examination of the financer, but made no statement regarding the ailment.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Reflecting the sentiment that such a conference would be proper and right, but saying he had no appointment whatever with President-elect Wilson, Secretary of War Stimson, today denied that he was scheduled to go to Trenton for a conference on the Mexican situation.

"I believe," he said, "that President Taft and members of his cabinet should be ready to give any information possible to the incoming President, if the occasion should demand it."

Major General Leonard E. Wood, chief of staff, today denied the printed report that he and Secretary of War Stimson had been invited to confer with President-elect Wilson regarding the present Mexican situation.

"I have received no such invitation," he said. "I do not believe that there is anything to it."

Warning against intervention in Mexico, was the almost universal expression of view on that subject given by members of Congress today.

The White House was the scene of genuine activity today, the bustle and hurrying being incident to the final get-away of the Taft family, bag and baggage, eight days hence. Rough garbed employes of a Washington storage house, trampled over rich carpeted floors, moving but loads of books and furniture and private property of the Tafts. On the upper floors, a half dozen maids, selected bits of feminine finery, packed them away in a half dozen trunks, finally bound for the Hotel Taft, New Haven. Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen, are prepared to leave Washington promptly on the afternoon of March 4. They will join Citizen William Howard Taft at the railroad station at three o'clock, immediately after the inauguration of President-elect Wilson. Joining the family of Henry W. Taft, in New York. Al will go to Augusta, Georgia, where they will stay at a hotel until March 25. The W. H. Taft family will then go to New Haven, where the ex-president will take up his duties at Yale College.

Washington modistes and milliners are bemoaning the fate which led Mrs. Woodrow Wilson to declare her belief that $1,000 a year was enough for any woman to spend on dress. Adoption by society of "Jeffersonian simplicity" in dress is feared by the trades people, especially in view of the emphatic support which a number of society people are giving to Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker, declared: "Mrs. Wilson will easily be able to dress herself and her three daughters on $1,000 a piece while they are in the White House."

"I am an American and I buy American goods—not expensive foreign ones," said Mrs. Stephen B. Ayres, wife of the Congressman from New York, "I have always managed to dress on less than $1,000 a year." "Mrs. Wilson will have no difficutly in keeping within her limit," said Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, wife of the fromer chief chemist.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The alarm of fire shortly after seven o'clock this morning was caused by a burning chimney on the west side of Patrick street, between Princess and Oronoco.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Annual State Convention to be Held in This City Next Sunday.

The annual State convention of Virginia members of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, will be held in Alexandria next Sunday afternoon. Twenty-five delegates, representing as many lodges in Virginia and West Virginia are expected to be present.

The convention will assemble on Sunday at 3 o'clock in St. Mary's Hall. The meeting will be called to order by Clarence C. Martin, of Martinsburg, W. Va., master of the Virginians. There are a number of important business matters to be considered and the convention will be in session for several hours. At the conclusion of the regular order of business a banquet will be tendered to the visiting delegation by the members of Fitgerald Assmebly No. 471 who have charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors while in this city.

At 7:30 p. m., the visiting members of the order, together with the local members of the Knights of Columbus will attend services at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

WESTMINSTER HALL.

Congregation of Second Presbyterian Church Fixes Upon Name of New Building.

At the services in the Second Presbyterian Church last night a vote of the congregation was taken in order to definitely fix upon a name for the building recently erected by the members of that church at the northeast corner of Prince and St. Asaph Sts. The vote was by ballot, and after they had been counted it was showed that a majority favored naming the edifice "Westminster Hall." Some wrote "Presbyterian Sunday School" on their ballots; others "Slaymaker Memorial Building," in respect to the memory of Rev. Henry Slaymaker, of Alexandria, who, while a missionary was drowned by the overturning of a smal lsteamboat in the Congo river several years ago.

The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

BULLET-RIDDLED BODIES OF VICTIMS

Madero's Sister Hurls Anathemas Upon Heads of Executioners.

THE WIDOWS' GRIEF.

Families of Madero and Suarez Refused Permission to See Their Murdered Kindred.

Mexico City, Feb. 24.—The bullet-riddled bodies of the ill-fated Madero and Suarez were in charge of their families today. That of Madero was received at the home of his sister, Mercedes, the heroine, who when refused permission to se bodies at penitentiary few hours after killing defied the officers of the guard and hurled anathemas upon the heads of the executioners.

Senora Madero, widow of the late president, and her sister-in-law, one of the most beautiful women in Mexico, a social leader here and in Paris, drove to the prison as soon as rumors of what had happened reached them. The widow's grief was pitiable but Senorita Mercedes retained perfect control and acted as the spokes-woman for the party.

The officer in charge was courteous but inexorable in his refusal to permit the women to enter. While they were engaged in a coloquy another automobile bearing Senora Suarez drove up on a similar errand. She, too, was refused permission, to enter the prison.

"My advice, Senoras," 'said the Mexican officer, "is that you return at once to your homes. The president undouhtedly will communicate with you."

Senora Madero burst into tears. With one arm around her weeping sister-in-law Senorita Mercedes drew herself up to her full height, looking scornfully over the array of officers and guards and with a sweeping gesture of contempt and defiance, exclaimed:

"Cowards and assassins, all of you! You have no hearts! You would increase the suffering of broken women! Your punishment is to come! You murderers who shot two unarmed men in the back! you traitors!"

Cowering under the tigerish wrath of the magnificent woman the officers and guards drew back into the shadow of the prison gates as though ashamed to face her flashing eyes.

Half supporting the prostrated widow Senorita Mercedes turned and strode with queenly dignity to the automobile and drove away.

Washington, D. C., February 24.—Until Mexico washes out the stain on her history in the assassination of Madero and Suarez by the blood of the murderers, every nation of the world will stan daloof from her. The United States intends to withhold official recognition of the new regime until the blame for the killing of deposed president and vice-president is fixed and punishment is meted out. Other world powers are expected to await America's actions in the matter, the United States, under the Monroe doctrine, being conceded the initiative in policies affecting Central America.

Non-recognition of Mexico as a world power may make it exceedingly difficult for the Huerta-Diaz regime to borrow money. Few bankers, it was believed here, would be willing to loan money unless the borrowing government was pledged to fairness by being officially included in the list of world powers. Leans to the Huerta-Diaz administration, under present conditions, come within the category of financial aid to rebels.

Arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst.

London, Feb. 24.—Formally charged with inciting the blowing up of the Lloyd-George country house at Walton Heath and stirring up the other suffragette outrages, Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, leader of the London militant suffragettes was arrested by Scotland Yard men this afternoon just as she was about to address another meeting in the London pavilion.

CANDIDATE FOR CLERK.

Councilman Spinks to Oppose N. S. Greenaway in Next August

Frank C. Spinks, member of the City Council from the First ward and one of the best-known politicians in the city, announces that he will be a candidate for the position of clerk of courts against Nevell S. Greenaway, the present incumbent. Both men are Democrats, and the Democratic primary will be held sometime in August. The exact date will be arranged later by the city committee.

The announcement by Mr. Spinks, is believed to foretell one of the bitterest political fights Alexandria has witnessed in years. The office of clerk of courts is the most lucrative position in politics in Alexandria. Mr. Greenaway was elected six years ago after a bitter fight, in which he defeated Charles Bendheim, for many years chairman of the city Democratic committee.

Mr. Spinks has been a member of City Council for thirteen years. Up to a year ago he represented the Fourth Ward, but in the last election moved to the First ward and defeated Edward S. Leadbeater, one of the leading business men of Alexandria. He is at present engaged in the retail liquor business, but, he states that he has made arrangements to dispose of his business in order to give his whole time to the canvass.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

Happy Gathering of Masons in Elks. Hall Saturday Night—Great Enthusiasm

It seems that most of the enthusiasm incident to the celebration of the 22nd of February this year was given vent to at the banquet of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons last Saturday night. The auditorium of Elks' Hall had been tastefully decorated for the occasion and a large portrait of George Washington, the anniversary of whose birth was celebrated, was placed conspicuously on the wall at the head of the table.

There was a large gathering of members of the craft from all sections of the United States and telegrams of greeting were read from Liberty Lodge of Beverly, Mass., and Constitutional Lodge, of Beverly, England.

Hon. C. C. Carlin, who was to have been one of the speakers, sent a telephone message, regretting his inability to be present.

The ladies of the Martha Washington Chapter, O. E. S., attired in colonial costumes had anticipated everything calculated to make the banquet a success. The tables had been arranged and spread in the most inviting manner and the menu was seasonable and tempting. The service was conducted expeditiously, the courses following in succession without interruption.

Enlivening music was a happpy feature. It was both vocal and instrumental, and the pleasant incidents in conecetion with the banquet of 1913 will long remain green spots in the memory of all present.

The company had gathered in the upper rooms of the Elks' Hall, and shortly after 8 o'clock announcement was made that all things were ready, and the guests proceeded to the main auditorium, where most of the space had been taken up by tables.

Worshipful Master Samuel W. Pitts rapped the company to order, and Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, chaplain of the lodge, invoked a blessing.

The discussion of the following menu took place.

Oyster Cocktail
Olives Celery
Wafers
Creamed Oysters Mixed Pickles
Cold Roast Turkey Smithfield Ham
Cranberry Sauce
Chicken Salad Salted Almonds
Reception Rolls
Ice Cream Cake Fruit
Cheese Coffee
Cigars Cigarettes

The covers of the menu cards were sheepskin aprons intended as souvenirs of the occasion.

As the feast proceeded the orchestra rendered the "Star Spangled Banner," which brought the entire company to their feet, sent a tremor of exultation through every soul. This manifestation of enthusiam was one of the most marked ever witnessed in Alexandria. There was no North, no South, no East, no West in that gathering of brethren, and from the outburst it would never have been expected that sectional differences had ever existed in the United States.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

VISITOR'S MIND BLANK.

S. E. Truett Could Not Remember his Name or Home.

Newport News, Va., Feb. 24.—His mind apparently a complete blank, S. E. Truett, a merchant of Willard, Md., arrived in this city a few days ago on the Steamer Virginia. He was turned over by the officers of the steamer to Special Agent Henry E. Bridgers, of the railway company, and removed to the St. Francis Hospital under the care of Dr. S. W. Hobson, physician to the railway company.

Truett later recovered his memory and told the chief of police his name and place of residence. He said that he had had financial worries and that this probably was responsible for his mental condition. However, he could not remember how he got to Norfolk or why he went there, or does he remember what caused him to come to this city.

Mrs. Truett was telegraphed at Willard and replied that some member of the family would be sent here to take Truett home. The man says that he never drank or smoked in his life and is unable to ascertain any reason why his mind should have become a blank.

FAKER IN FREDERICKSBURG.

Works Scheme Only Short Time Before He Skips.

Fredericksburg, Va., Feb. 24.—A stranger was here a few days ago who claimed to be sent around by the city water works to inspect hydrants and sell a little wire strainer that fits over the spigots at 10 cents each. He went to private houses and insisted on the purchase of the strainers, saying that he was sent to see that they were used as a sanitary precaution.

Several persons were faked into buying the strainers, which are absolutely worthless.

The same man is said to have worked the same scheme in Richmond.

When the officers got on to the game the faker had vanished.

James H. C .Grasty Declares Candidacy And Platform.

Staunton, Va., Feb. 24.—James H. C. Grasty, of Augusta county, has dedeclared himself a candidate for the House of Delegates in the Democratic primary and announces that he is in favor of submitting state-wide prohibition to a vote of the people of the state.

Mr. Grasty, who is the son of the late Thomas P. Grasty, formerly one of the editors and owners of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore, and a nephew of Charles H. Grasty, of the Baltimore Sun, is president of the Augusta County Fruit Growers' Association.

BOSSERMAN RECOVERING.

Staunton Man Cuts Wife's Name From Insurance Policies.

Staunton, Va., Feb. 24.—Luther B. Bosserman, who was shot Thursday by A. D. Worth when the latter was surprised in Bosserman's home with Mrs. Bosserman, bids fair to get well.

The ball in the chest broke a rib, and this gives his physicians their only concern. The ball that entered his groin passed through a metal match box, igniting the matches, and the metal checked the progress of the ball so that it stopped short of penetrating the bladder.

Mr. Bosserman had considerable insurance on his life in favor of his wife, but had it changed so as to make his father and mother the beneficiaries. His wife protests that the young man was visiting her to get her to intercede with her sister, for whom she claims Worth entertained affection. The sister is friendly to Mr. Bosserman and has visited him at the hospital, showing sympathy and offering her help.

SCARCITY OF WORK.

Republicans Believed to be Throwing Work Where They Can Win.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 24.—Scarcity of work at the Norfolk Navy yard has resulted in the furlough and discharge outright of several hundred mechanics who have been employed there in for some time.

Most of the furloughs and discharges have come from the machinery division. Today there were discharged twelve electricians and as many boilermakers were laid off on furlough.

The only reason assigned is scarcity of work. Some of the furloughed men have been able to secure employment in outside shops on the Norfolk and Portsmouth side of the river while others have not been so fortunate.

It is believed that the scarcity of work at the Norfolk Navy yard has been brought about by reason of the fact that the Republican administration at Washington has sought to throw all the work it could as it was going out of office to the navy yards in those states, where there would be a chance of Republican victory in the next elections.

LAD KILLED BY TRAIN.

Horse Thorws Him Over Head And On to the Track.

Lynchburg, Va., Feb. 24.—Before a large crowd waiting at the Twelfth street station, of the Norfolk and Western, yesterday afternoon, Charles Arthur, 13 years old, son of Rev. P. F. Arthur, a Methodist minister, was instantly killed, when a young horse the lad was riding threw him under the train.

At a distance of 200 yards from the track the colt became frightened and ran toward the railway. The train was crossing the street at the time and within a few feet of the rails the hourse stopped suddenly, planted himself on all fours and hurled the boy over his head directly under a wheel of the coach.

FOR SERVICE IN MEXICO.

Captain of Harrisonburg Guards on Lookout for 100 Men.

Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 24—Several days ago Capt. William Weiner, of the Harrisonburg Guards received from the war department instructions to ascertain if 100 men could be secured here who would be willing to engage in actual service in case of war with Mexico. Blanks and other papers were sent for the signatures of volunteers. Captain Weiner also received instructions to examine and test the ammunition on hand.

The captain said that he did not known what effect the overthrow of the Madero government will have on the situation, but in the absence of further orders from the department he will procede to secure 100 men if possible, who would be willing to participate in actual warfare if called upon by the government. The list is what is termed the "reserve list," and does not amount to a regular enlistment, but is rather a mere volunteer of service on the part of citizens to stand by the government in case their services in the army would be necessary.

Negro Arrested.

Petersburg, Va., Feb. 24.—Detectives Eanes and Heelan made a big catch in the arrest in Chesterfield, of James Hart, a negro, the man who shot Private Detective J. H. Bailey, of Richmond, Thursday night at Dunlops. He admits the shooting. Concealed in the woods near where the arrest was made were found two large valises packed with plunder stolen on the night of Feb. 18 from the commissary of the Emporia Manufacturing Company embracing a dozen gold watches, silver watches, jewelry, clothing, etc. The negro admits this theft. A fine 42-calibre pistol was found strapped to the negro's side and another in his grip.

CHILD KILLED.

Sash Falls on Girl's Neck, And She is Strangled.

Galax, Va., Feb. 24.—A few days ago about 5 o'clock, on attempting to enter Forest Oak schoolhouse through a window to get her books, Mary Moore was caught by the neck by a falling windaw sash, and when found three or four hours later was dead. She was ten years old, and the daughter of Monroe Moore. She and her mother and two sisters were living at their home about ten miles east of Galax. Mary had been attending the Forest Oak school, which is about a quarter of a mile from her home, until a day or two before her death. On this day she had been to visit the home of her uncle, Jesse Mitchell, which is about half a mile from that of her mother, and at 5 o'clock left to return to her home. The road led by the schoolhouse, and it is clear that she had intended to enter to get her books, which she had left there a day or two before. Miss Blanche Larrowe, the teacher, had locked the door and the child placed a rude bench under the window stood on it and the window. When she attempted to climb in the sash fell, catching her by the neck. After dark, when she had failed to arrive at home, her mother called up the neighbors, and not being able to locate her, search was made. The body was found at about 9 o'clock, and from all appearances she had been dead for two or three hours. It is not thought that her neck was broken by the fall of the sash, but that she died from strangulation.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

Man, With Wife in North Carolina, Weds Virginia Girl.

Suffolk, Feb. 24.—Sheriff R. A. Edwards, of Isle of Wight, Virginia, returned form Portsmouth, Va. ,today with Will Hoxit, a prominent man of Isle of Wight county, charged with bigamy. Hoxit several weeks ago was married to Miss White, daughter of a prominent Smithfield merchant, by Rev. J. L. King, of Windsor, Va.

An anonymous letter sent to Mrs. Hoxit No. 1, who, with her 12-year-old child, lives in North Carolina, brought about a correspondence with Rev. J. L. King, and at the instance of W. Edgar English, brother-in-law of Miss White, or Mrs. Hoxit No. 2 Hoxit was arrested last night and is now lodged in Isle of Wight ailj.

Victim of Poisoning Buried.

Covington, Va., Feb. 24.—The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, age 24, the wife of L. W. Hamilton, who died Friday night from poison, accidently given her in mistake by her husband, took place here yesterday afternoon from the Presbyterian Church and was very largely attended. Mrs. Hamilton had been complaining for some days, having had an acute attack of appendicitis and was arranging for an operation the first of next week. Late Friday night her husband, who is a traveling salesman and who had just returned home from a trip, undertook to give his wife a dose of castor oil, and accidently got hold of a botttle of liniment composed of chloral and gum camphor and gave her five teaspoonfuls in some orange juice. Mrs. Hamilton soon discovered the mistake and told her husband that he had given her the wrong medicine. These were the last words that she ever spoke.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash. A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

THE MURDER OF PRESIDENT MADERO ONE OF THE BLOODEST PAGES IN MEXICAN HISTORY.

Four hundred years of blood shed in Mexico that has marked the inhabitants of that land with such a savage lust of killing that only centuries of right living can wipe out, never witnessed a more wanton murder than that of Francisco Madero and Jose Suarez.

February 22nd, the birthday of the immortal Washington, whose name the Mexicans like to prattle when they speak of their independence from Spanish dominion, will henceforth mark a bloody page in Mexican history which will be abhorred by every man who has even the most elementary principle of justice and fair play in his heart.

The death of Montezuma on the walls of his place, placed there by the daring Cortez; the torture of Cuauhtemoc, the last great chief of the Aztecs by Alvarado who placed his feet in burning oil; the pathetic end of Hildago the patriot priest, who after gaining independence for his people was killed by the revengeful Spaniards and his head, together with those of his lieutenants,hung from the walls of his prison; the death of Iturbide the first emperor, in 1824, slain by the men who only a few months before had proudly proclaimed him as emperor; the assassination of President Guerrero by General Bustamante and the hated Santa Anna, whose bloody orders at the Alamo a few years later gave Texas its independence; the execution of the Emperor Maxmillian whose vanity played upon by Napoleon,gained him an emperor's crown, but lost his life before a firing squad on the hills of Querretaro. None of these deaths, horrible as they were, justly deserved as they might have been, compare with the wanton murder lust that marked for the last President of Mexico, a death at the hands of the soldiers of Generals Huerta and Diaz.

Madero had reached the end of his resources, politically and financially. Deserted by his army, shorn of the great wealth that had enabled him to reach the Presidential chair, broken in spirit and body, all that was left for him was exile in some foreign land where he could dream of the time when Mexico would gain freedom, freedom, not from some powerful dictator that would control its destinies from a seat of power, but freedom from itself, freedom from its terrible heritage of blood and lust, a freedom only to be obtained by education and clean living.

The powerful nations of the world plead for the life of Madero. Ambassador Wilson, representing the United Sates Government, the one power that stood between the autonomy of Mexico and its division among the land-hungry nations of Europe, made a request that Madero's life might be spared. But even while Senora Madero plead with Huerta, who has gained the title of "The Butcher" of the North," for the life of her husband and he was promising that nothing outside of the strictest provisions of the law would be done, foul murder was being plotted behind the thick walls of the National Palace.

And that it was murder, deliberate, cruel and without justification, is evident to any one who reads behind the lines of the patched up story that comes from official sources. Picture for yourself the crime.

The transfer of the poltiical prisoners from the old national palace, in the center of the city, to the new penitentiary, standing alone on the salt marshes, facing Lake Texcoco, was made at midnight. No word of the projected move was permitted to leak out for publicity meant the gathering of a people, who were as changeable as the wind, who yesterday shrieked curses at Madero as a fallen idol, who tomorrow might crown him as a hero. Gathered in the great patio of the National Palace, their movements quiet, save the occasional rattle of a sabre on the silver ornaments of their leather pantaloons, or the restless stamp of horses, who were hidden in the recesses of the arches, stood four-score of the famous rurales, or mounted soldiers, recruited by Profirio Diaz from the brigands that infested the land, every man armed with carbine,sword, dagger and automatic pistol, every man picked for a desperate deed.

A stir is heard at the top of the great flight of stone stairs that reached from the pavement to the corridor above. A little band of officers emerged from the darkness and in the center is seen Madero and Suarez, their faces pale and worn, from the sleepless nights of anxiety since the knock of the sword of Felix Diaz at their doors, two weeks before.

An automobile, bearing on its sides the crest of Mexico, an eagle holding a snake in its talons,—darts from a hidden corner. The rurales, are mounted in a second and surround the machine; the mighty doors are thrown open and the party dashes into the great Zocalo, by day the market place of thousands upon thousands but now deserted andforsaken. As they pass through the portal, over which hangs the liberty bell, which Hildalgo rang when he called the Mexicans to arms in the first struggle for independence, the great chimes on the dark towers of the cathedral, far above the trees of the Plaza, rang out the hour of midnight. It was only a routine matter with the keeper of the bells in his little cell on the roof for he little knew, then, that the bells were solemnly tolling the death knell of Francisco Madero.

The calvacade at quickened pace swerved around the corner into Calle de Moneda, a broad street leading to the outskirts of the city where the new penitentiary is located. From now on only the meagre official accounts are at hand and they are so indefinite as to immediately arouse the suspicion that the true facts are being withheld and the story of an attempt at rescue the coloring given out by the government authorities.

According to some of the accounts half way between the plaza and the penitentiary a little group of men tried to interfere with the party.

Former Minister de la Barra says there were five, others say 50 but 500 men would have been unable to have taken Madero and Suarez from the 100 or more rurales that officials say guarded them. Think of it for a moment. Not a soldier killed, or wounded, a few rounds of shots fired yet Madero in the center of the party is dead with two bullets in his head and Suarez bears evidence of the treachery of his guards with eight gasping wounds in his body.

Such are the few facts that are now at hand, and it must seem incrediable that with a guard of 100 rurales there would not have been slaughter of many more than the two rescuers, alleged by the government to have been killed in the encounter.

Yesterday a hundred or so men and women clustered about broken pieces of brick which had been heaped around the blood-stained places in the dust where the President and Vice President had been executed. An open space in the center of these little cairns was still wet and ruddy, but the hot sun was fast fading and drying the vivid smears.

The stains on the ground may fade and die but the stains on the murderers of Madero and Suarez will remain forever.

HOUSE WANTED.—I have a client who wants to trade a beautiful 8-room and bath brick—located in Washington, D. C.—for a lot 25x125 in Rosemont or will purchase lot (same size) if desirably located and price is right. FRANCIS A. BLUNDEN, 707 G. St., N. W., Washington, D. C. 21 3t

SMILES.

By The Second Ward Bard.

ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

On a Sunday afternoon,
When the world seems just in tune
With your spirits, after church and dinner's done,
Then the madam and the kids
All put on their Sunday lids,
And you take them for a stroll out in the sun.

Old King street's looking gay
As you start upon your way,
It is crowded from the station to the docks.
As you push the baby coach
In your heart there's no reproach
'Gainst the world for all its hardships and its knocks.

For your lady's looking sweet,
And the kids are dressed so neat
That you're feeling real prosperous and swell,
For your last year's coat is pressed,
And you seem quite nicely dressed
With the old slouch hat that's served you long and well.

What's the odds? The sunshine's free,
And the world can happy be
Even if a few have cornered all the gold,
For they cannot take away
What the Lord's put here to stay,
The happiness that's due to young and old.

And the madam smiles so sly,
As she comes strolling by
Some pretty girl out walking with her beau,
So she gives a little wink,
And you cannot help but think
Of the days you courted her some years ago.

All the world seems on the street,
Every neighbor whom you meet
Has got a smile and something nice to say,
And you figure out that night,
That the week has started right
By your walk on King street on the Sabbath day.

Half the lies they tell on City Council ain't true.

If the new history of Washington, The Man and Mason, is half the book that it's author is a man, it's worth reading.

It is singular, but true, that you can buy Turkish Trophies at the Greek Quick Lunch Room.

To think that our Sammy had in him to make such a good toastmaster! But then, why not? There was inspiration enough in colonial garb And some of those staid Grand Masters were certainly peeling their eyes around, too. We don't blame them a bit. Those Eastern Star girls looked good enough to eat.

Lucile Mays kin play an' sing,
'Bout that thah's no question,
But her husban,'yestiday,

'Liza Jane can't play a note
An' ne'er goes to a party,
But she kin cook to beat the Dutch,
An' Hubby's fat an' hearty.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

Southern cities—"Suwanee River," and as the music shifted to the old "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," etc.,—and suddenly switched to Dixie there was a repetition of the outburst which followed the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner." "Yankee Doodle" was next thrilling the crowd which for a time became as wild as our forefathers during the days of '76, when the bands struck the air.

The soloists, Messrs. J. Walter Humphrey, Kenneth W. Ogden, Geo. H. Evans, with W. T. Taber as accompanist, were equally enjoyed, as they are always.

The banquetters had by this time worked themselves down the menu to the cigars—those essential adjuncts to a feast.

The company was again called to order by Worshipful Master Pitts, when the salutations were read by Secand Massachusetts were read by Secretary A. G. Uhler, after which Most Worshipful W. L. Andrews, Grandmaster of Masons of Virginia, was announced. His address was brief, but during the short time he spoke he uttered much that should be remembered concerning the occasion and Washington, the anniversary of whose birth was being celebrated.

Hon. Charles A. Towne, of New York, was the next speaker. Volumes have been written concerning Washington during the past century or more, and it might be assumed that but little new concerning the great American could be uttered at this day, but Mr. Towne brought out new ideas, embellished old pictures of the hero, and made many references and comparisons from history which were much enjoyed by his hearers.

Worshipful Brother John H. Harris, past master of Liberty Lodge, of Beverly, Mass., was the next speaker. He too, proved thrilling and interesting throughout.

Mr. Edwin Callow, of Washington, was the next speaker and his brief address was justly appreciated.

A gavel made of a magnolia tree, planted by Washington and a cherry tree from Mount Vernon, was subsequently presented to Master Harris, of Liberty Lodge, Beverly, Mass.

A bunch of American Beauty roses was presented to Mrs. Beauchamp, wife of grand Secretary Beauchamp, of Alabama, who was the only lady seated at the table.

A handsomely bound copy of Mr. C. H. Callahan's book, "Washington the Man and the Mason," was presented to Representative Towne.

Among the guests present from other cities was five from William L. Elkins Lodge, of Philadelphia—Messrs. Rewalt, Tinkerton, Cayne, Scull and Wilson.

The company adjourned at eleven o'clock.

Wants Intervention.

London, Feb. 24.—Commenting on the killing of Madero and Suarez, The Globe this afternoon urges American intervention in Mexico, saying:

"The honor of the great republic is closely involved in this savage murder. The United States is under obligation to civilization to maintain some semblance of order in Mexico. The world has the right to expect that America will respect the responsibilities as well as reap the advantages of the Monroe Doctrine."

SAID SHE WOULD FAINT

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles.

Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint.

I took Cardui, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did."

Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women.

It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times.

Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands.

Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it.

PREPARING FOR WILSON.

Democrats Rapidly Shaping Reorganization and Legislative Plans For New Congress.

Polices of a new administration and plans of a new Congress will be fairly well outlined within the next ten days.

Anxious to start the new machinery as soon as the oath has been administered to President-elect Wilson, Democratic leaders have prepared for party organization and the outlining of legislative action immediately after Mr. Wilson assumes office.

Definite steps toward launching the Democratic Congress have been taken. The House caucus called for March 5th, will name the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee, consider other matters of party reorganization and furnish the basis of tariff discussion from which party leaders will proceed in writing the tariff revision bills.

The reorganization fight in the senate after many conferences, during the last few weeks apparently has centered about the effort to name Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, as caucus chairman, a post that has been held by Senator Martin, of Virginia.

The House caucus probably will name members of the Banking and Currency Committee and select, at least, tentatively, the heads of other important committees and House officers. No question exists over the continuation of Champ Clark a Speaker, and Oscar W. Underwood as floor leader and chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Chairman Underwood and members of the Ways and Means Committee have declined to commit themselves upon any definite rates of duty or upon any exact plans for revision, and the general subject of the tariff will be taken into caucus March 5 and considered by the full Democratic membership of the new House in advance of any positive action by the Ways and Means Committee toward the preparation of tariff bills.

It is expected that President Wilson's call for an extra session will specify the tariff as the subject for immediate consideration, but that the way will be left open for the consideration of other urgent matters.

SOUTHERN EDUCATORS.

Co-Operation Among Presbyterian Institutions Under Discussion.

Bristol, Va.-Ten., Feb. 24.—A plan of co-operation among Presbyterian colleges of the Appalachian region, suggested by Dr Tilden Schurer, of King College, is under consideration at a conference of Presbyterian educators which was begun here last night. The plan will be made public later

Among the men present are:

President Henry Louis Smith, of Washington and Lee University; Dr. Thomas W. Lingle, of Davidson College, North Carolina; and Dr. Thomas S. Clyce, head of Austin College Texas.

The visitors were given a reception last night in connection with the opening of the alumni and students building of King College, just completed at a cost of $20,000.

Miss Dora Keen, the mountain climber who ascended Mount Blackburn in Alaska, startled American geographers by her statement that she saw at a distance to the eastward an unknown mountain apparently higher than Mount McKinley. Coast survey experts have looked into the matter and found that the peak which attracted Miss Keen's attention is Mount Steele, the height of which has been estimated to be 16,439 feet, while the height of Mount McKinley is upward of 20,000 feet. The height of Mount Blackburn is 16,140 feet which is 300 feet lower than that of Mount Steele. Mount McKinley retains the reputation which it had when it was named of being the loftiest peak on the North American continent.

A Chicago girl while playing the piano was struck by lightning, although not seriously hurt. But whether the casualty is to be viewed as accident or retribution is a question the neighbors are discussing—that is, of course, if the girl was the average performer and the neighbors average neighbors.

Yes, it's very true that there is no salary attached to the job of being a wife and mother. Neither have we noticed that there is any salary attached to the job of being a husband and father.

A French stowaway, given the freedom of the ship after his discovery, was clapped into a dungeon cell because he insisted on flirting with all the females aboard. At sea in his love affairs, maybe.

HELPING HER PICK OUT HAT

Only the Gay and Graceless Bachelor Can See Anything Comic About the Proceedings.

"Dearie, I want you to go with me one day this week and help me select a hat."

This is not a request. It is a command that no married man dares disobey. Hubby is right now bracing himself for the shock that comes at least twice in every year. A few of the poor, unfortunate husbands have already received their orders, and the rest are looking for the worst any day now.

This thing of helping your wife buy a hat is tragedy. While it may seem funny to a bachelor, this expedition into the jungles of ostrich feathers and mountains of bandboxes is not a married man's idea of a good time.

He submits to the awful torture twice a year, just before Easter and again in September. No, he doesn't like it; he does it to keep peace in the family. It helps to keep the police away from the door. He would welcome the electric chair, a whole day's session with the dentist or a double dose of grand opera if he had his choice. Not that his wife cares a rap about his opinion. No matter what hat she picks out, she knows beforehand she is not going to like it, and she takes him along to shoulder the blame.

In the spring, when the young man's fancy is turning lightly to thoughts of love, the married man's frenzy—he hasn't any fancy—is turning seriously to thoughts of the Easter millinery hunt. It takes him six months to get over the experience, and just as he has reached the point where he can look at a bandbox without weeping he has to endure the suffering all over again.

HAD NO MERCY FOR AVIATOR

Country Hardware Man's Advancing Scale of Prices Seemed to Show a Slight Prejudice.

Jules Vedrines, the world's champion aviator, complained in Chicago of America's indifference to aviation.

"The expense, perhaps, has something to do with it," he said. "Flying in America does, indeed, come high.

"I know a young Philadelphian who recently mastered the monoplane. With his mechanician he was flying to Atlantic City when something went wrong near Tuckahoe, and they came down in a mosquito-infested field.

"The mechanician went to a hardware shop to buy a bolt.

"'A bolt like that?' said the hardware man, examining the mechanician's broken sample. 'Well, I guess I can give you a bolt like that for a quarter.' Then, suddenly, he frowned. 'Hold on, though. You're an automobilist, ain't you? In that case it'll cost you $3.50.'

"But a raw-boned lad loafing in the shop gave a loud laugh and said:

"'He ain't no automobilist. He's a flyin'-machine man.'

"'In that case, stranger,' said the dealer quickly, 'the bolt will cost you $8, net and net.'"

Consequences.

Did you ever play a little old game called "Consequences?" I used to play it in school on the sly, and so did other little boys and girls, and boys and girls that weren't so little either. All about how Mr. So-and-So met Miss So-and-So at Mrs. So-and-So's. And how he said and she said and the world said, and the consequences were that ——, well, God knows what they were, the consequences. Happening to pick up a book of games at the library one afternoon, I turned by accident to "Consequences." A thousand memories came flocking in upon me. And a thought born not of memory but of experience. While life, like the game, is largely a matter of a man and woman meeting, meeting casually at Mrs. So-and-So's, with a long train of consequences, in real life not like the game, what the world says comes at last to be omitted from our calculation. Not through indifference to it—the love and approval of those about us is the very breath of life—but because we have to stand alone before we can stand together. The strong ones of the earth are ever those who do and say the thing they must and leave the rest with God.—New York Press.

Egg Membrane for Skin.

For a long time doctors have been looking for a good substitute for human skin for grafting. The possibility has lately been demonstrated by taking the membrane that lines the shell of newly laid eggs, plastering it over the burn, and making it grow as human skin. The discoverer of this process was treating a child which had previously been burned, and in breaking a raw egg which he desired the child to swallow dropped part of the membrane by accident upon the burn and bandaged the wound. Later on it was discovered that the accidental placing of the egg membrane over the burn had caused cells to augment in number and gradually to extend over the wound until, at the end of some weeks, the surface was completely covered with the new skin. The treatment was called to the attention of physicians and it is now being used to cure scalds.—Harper's Weekly.

WIFE AND GUEST SURPRISED.

Intruder Jumped From The Third Story Window.

Richmond, Feb. 24.—Considerable suppressed excitement exists in the West End as the result of a sensational exit from a window made by a citizen of that section of the city a night or two ago to save himself from an infuriated husband, who was thought to be on his way to a Southern city, but who, as a matter of fact, had surreptitiously returned from the station and had climbed into his home by means of a ladder.

The interloper undoubtedly saved his life by his sudden and unorthodox leave taking, but he so seriously injured himself that he was unable to escape until he had been fully recognized.

What the consequences will be are not yet fully known, though it is said that a divorce suit will soon be filed and along with it a damage suit for alienation.

It appears that the husband had for some time suspected that someone was paying attention to his wife, and his wife was receiving her caller with considerable regularity. The matter had become, it is said neighborhood gossip, and the husband decided to prove or disprove the charges.

He consequently announced that he had received word calling him out of town. The business was imperative, he said, and he would in all likelihood be out of the city several days. He packed his suitcase and went down to the station, but instead of taking the train quietly returned to his home.

By means of a ladder he climbed up on the outside of the house and was able to look into his wife's apartments. The night was rather dark but there was a dim light. He saw that his wife was not alone, and general appearances so infuriated him that he at once raised the window and leaped into the room.

The woman's guest, taken entirely by surprise, attempted to rush from the room, but the husband, fully prepared to any emergency, was between him and the door. The man, it is said, broke the glass out of a window with a chair and jumped.

He struck in the yard or grass plot in front of the house, it is understood and that probably saved his life, as he might have been almost instantly killed had he landed on the concrete sidewalk.

As it was, the man's leg was wrenched, if not actually broken, and the husband, looking out of the window, saw him drag himself to his feet and hobble off.

Virginian Charged With Murder.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 24.—James M. Jack, scion of a wealthy family living in Winchester, Va., was arrested yesterday charged with shooting his wife, Rosella. She is mortally wounded.

Police were attracted to the Jack home, 5962 Baum Boulevard, at 1:10 o'clock yesterday morning by shots. They found the woman with five bullets through her head and one through her breast. Before losing consciousness she accused her husband.

Jack was found hiding in the basement. He was locked up in the Franks town Avenue police station, and denies knowing anything of the tragedy.

Plucky Woman.

A burglar, who broke into the home of William Duluce, at 1224 Ames Place, N. E., Washington, last night made a hurried exit without any loot when he suddenly found Mrs. Duluce facing him wit ha revolver. Mrs. Duluce fired four shots at the man but he got away.

All the lights in the house had been extinguished, and Mrs. Duluce had retired. Her husband and daughter were visitin gfriends and she was alone. About 9 o'clock Mrs. Duluce heard a muffled crash and the tinkle of falling glass. She sat up. Then hearing the sound of the basement door opening, reached under her pillow for her husband's revolver. In nightgown and slippers she crept downstairs.

The intruder was walking through the passage in the basement, when Mrs. Duluce fearlessly started down the cellar stairs to meet him. She crept down silently and before the man was aware of her presence she saw him.

"Put up your hands!" Mrs. Duluce commanded.

The crouching figure in the gloom sprang upright, and then, when she could not tell whether the man intended to attack or retreat, Mrs. Duluce fired. At the second shot the man was dashing out of the door by which he had entered. Two more bullets followed him.

Mildred Schwart, six-years old, of Brooklyn, while attending kindergarten bit the end of her pencil, swallowed a piece of lead and died.

ARMED NEGROES ON RAMPAGE.

Shoot up Gathering at McDaniel And Attack Dwelling.

St. Michales, Md., Feb. 24.—During a Washington's Birthday celebration by colored people at their hall at McDaniel Saturday night about 15 negroes, heavily armed and partly intoxicated, appeared on the scene and shut up the hall.

No one was seriously injured, but several suffered minor injuries while attempting to escape from the hall.

The armed band of negroes then started for Claiborne, and, upon reaching the home of former Sheriff Ira K. Caulk, they again opened fire.

Caulk notified Sheriff T. Frank Haddaway, who, with Deputies James E. Gannon and Alexander C. Mortimer, went to Claiborne and succeeded in apprehending 10 of the negroes. In some cases the officers battered in windows and doors to secure negroes wanted.

The negroes apprehended and lodged in the county jail are Ernest Adams, Levin Waters, Alfred Waters, Edward E. Mitchell, Howard Maddox, Alfred Wilson, James Taylor, Samuel Wiliams, Howard Quinn and Clarence Taylor.

The negroes are natives of Virginia and have been employed at a Claiborne oyster packing house as shuckers during the winter months.

KILLING OF MADERO.

Bloody Scenes in City of Mexico—Reign of Terror.

A reign of terror has been inaugurated in Mexico. Francisco I. Madero and Pino Suarez, deposed President and Vice President of the republic have fallen—shot down in cold blood during a midnight ride from the National Palace to the penttentiary.

Felix Diaz's threat of Saturday night, "We will use such energetic means as to put an end to rebellions forever," has been followed by swift execution.

Murder and anarchy have been let loose to cement the work of the revolution. The Maderistas and all other opponents of the military dynasty which has been established are to be exterminated. Opposition to the Diaz-Huerta regime is to be drowned in blood. Martial law alone prevails. The jails are being filled with suspects. There are rumors of other official assassinations.

The official explanation of Madero's assassination and Suarez's is twofold and contradictory. Gen. Victoriano Huerta, the provisional President, swears that the killing was incidental to an attempt to rescue the two deposed officials.

Francisco de la Barra declared that it was because the two men attempted to escape. Neither will make a definite statement. It is impossible to obtain information as to which side began the firing—from which side came the fatal shots.

Pending a full investigation of the circumstances surrounding the killing of former President Madero and former Vice President Pino Suarez in the streets of Mexico City yesterday, Ambassador Wilson and the other foreign diplomatic representatives in Mexico have declined to meet the officials of the new government in that country.

Ambassador Wilson informed Secretary of State Knox last night that he had requested the Mexican minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. de la Barra to postpone the reception to the diplomatic corps, which was to have been held today, until the killing of the deposed officials had been cleared up.

That the Huerta government in Mexico City has thus been virtually put on trial to exculpate itself from complicity in the killing of Madero and Pino Suarez, was the interpretation put upon Ambassador Wilson's action. It was also regarded as extremely significant of the skepticism with which the disclaimer of the provisional government of any connection with the killing of the former President and Vice President has been received.

VIRGINIA BANKERS.

Officers Elected And Resolution Opposing Tax on Deposits Adopted.

Harrisonburg, Va., Feb. 24.—Officers wree elected and a resolution asking the Virginia legislature to abolish the tax on individual bank deposits adopted at the annual meeting of group three of the Virginia Bankers' Association here Saturday. About 75 bankers' representing 50 national and state institutions, were present.

Officers were elected as follows: President, C. H. Chandler, of Harrisonburg; vice president, W. W. Hutchinson, of Manassas; secretary, F. B. Maphis, of Strasburg. The officers, together with W. N. Hilleary, of Staunton, and Arthur Herbert, jr., of Alexandria, were elected as an advisory committee.

MUSTEROLE

No Plaster! No Blister!

Everybody knows how the good old fashioned mustard plaster relieves a cold, an ache or a pain.

Your mother and your grandmother always applied it. The plaster burned awfully. But it surely brought relief.

MUSTEROLE is the same remedy without the plaster and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. You don't have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and the pain is gone!

Not a blister is left, even on tender skin! Instead it has a delicious, comforting effect.

There is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Croup, Stiff, Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents pneumonia). Millions of jars of MUSTEROLE are sold annually.

MUSTEROLE

WILL NOT BLISTER

It is a staple in the large hospitals. Doctors and nurses use it and recommend it to patients. Ask your doctor.

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar postpaid.

Doctors tell How Musterole Relieves.

Dr. J. P. Frey, Chicago, Ill., says: "I prescribe your Musterole every day. Use it in all cases of alveolar abscess and inflammation."

UNITED STATES Post Office and Custom House, Alexandria, Va. Office of Custodian, February, 15, 1913. Sealed proposals will be received at this building until 2 o'clock p. m., February 27, 1913, and then opened, for furnishing electric current, gas, water, ice and miscellaneous supplies, and for removing ashes and rubbish, washing towels and sprinkling streets during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914. Sealed proposals will also be received until 2 o'clock p. m., April 22, 1913, and then opened, for 75 tons anthracite coal. SUNNY BROOK

THE—PURE FOOD—WHISKEY

The great tonic and stimulating properties of Sunny Brook have had much to do toward making us the largest distillers of fine old whiskey in the world. For nearly 50 years Sunny Brook has proved of real value to those who now and then require an energy-builder. When energy is lacking, efficiency is lacking. Rare, old and mellow whiskey like Sunny Brook, acts as a great up-builder; and makes life worth living.

Sunny Brook is Bottled in Bond—every bottle is sealed with the Government Stamp showing that the contents are genuine, straight natural whiskey, U. S. Standard (100%) proof. This stamp however, only assures purity, but not quality. Any whiskey Bottled In Bond is genuine straight whiskey, but not all straight whiskies are good whiskies. When you select Sunny Brook—The Pure Food Whiskey—then you know that in addition to the assurance of Absolute Purity by the greatest government on the Globe you have a guarantee of Unexcelled Quality by the largest distillers of fine whiskey in the world.
